21.2. The purpose of these regroupings will be to reduce the intervals which may occur between crews as a result of late arrivals and/or retirements. Thus the starting time from the regrouping control and not its duration must be taken into consideration.

21.3. On their arrival at these regrouping controls, the crews will hand the Post Marshal their time card and possibly the sheets for the RT covered. Engines must be stopped. The crews will receive instructions on their starting time. They then must receive instructions on their starting time. They then must drive their car immediately and directly to the parc fermé (Art. 20). The organizers may give them a new card either at the entrance or the exit of the parc fermé.

22.7. Crews are forbidden to drive in the opposite direction to that of the event, under pain of exclusion.

22.8. The start will be a standing one, and engines must be running whilst the car is on the start line.

22.9. Starts of RT will be given as follows:

22.9.1. When the car with its crew on board has stopped in front of the starting control, the Marshal will enter the time scheduled for the start of the car in question on the RT sheet (hour and minutes). 22.21. Interruption of a RT:

22.21.1. When a RT has to be definitively stopped for any reason whatsoever before the last crew has covered it, a classification for the stage may however be established by allocating to each crew, which has been unable to complete the RT because of the interruption on decision of the Competition Director, a time set before the interruption.

22.21.2. This classification may be drawn up even if only one crew has been able to cover the RT in normal racing conditions.

22.21.3. Only the Event Director may apply this disposition.

22.21.4. However, no crew which is totally or partially responsible for stopping a RT may benefit from this measure. He will be given the time it might have eventually set if this is greater than the biggest delta time awarded to the other crews.
