1.2 Event presentation

2015 Rally Italia Sardegna, scheduled from June 11th to 14th, and for the twelfth time to be run in Sardinia, confirms the format of the succesful 2014 edition.

Alghero has been confirmed as base of the rally Head Quarter of the event, Cagliari will host the ceremonial start and the first Special Stage. 2015 Rally Italia Sardegna is going to involve all four historical regions of the island: Cagliari for the ceremonial start and the first SS, Oristano and Sassari during Day1 (Friday June 12th), Sassari, Olbia-Tempio and Nuoro during Day2 (Saturday June 13th) and Sassari for the grand final with the Power Stage Cala Flumini, one of the most significant and demanding stages of the World Rally Championship.

Base of the event Alghero, hosting the final arrival ceremony, close to the town's Ramparts, and the main Service Park along the docks of the touristic harbour, the "ramblas" of the Bousquets Promenade and Piazzale della Pace, in the historic centre of the town.

Alghero has over 40.000 inhabitants and is known also as "little Barcelona" since it maintained the use of the Catalan language. The 22.4% of the inhabitants speak the Alghero version of the Catalan language, which has been recognized by the Italian Republic and the Sardinia Region as an official minority language. Alghero host an institutional delegation of the Generalitat de Catalunya, the regional government of Catalonia.

Alghero is one of the doors to Sardinia, thanks to the commercial harbour of Porto Torres and the airport Alghero-Riviera del Corallo, located 10 km north of the town and open to both national and international flights, with approximately 3.5 millions passengers every year. The Head Quarter of 2015 Rally Italia Sardegna, is the main town of the Riviera del Corallo (Coral Riviera), name that derives from the fact that in its bay there is the highest quantity of the most precious red coral, that specialized divers still pick up. The coral working and sell still paly an important economic and cultural role.
