RALLY GUIDE 1

1 PRESENTATION / WELCOME

1/1 A word from the FFSA President

Ladies and gentlemen,

I am really delighted to welcome you all again to the Ile de Beauté for the second year running.

On our return to what I could call our 'native land' last year, many of you took the start of the 2015 Tour de Corse. More than 130 crews, and a total of almost 200 in all - the highest number of entries of the season in the 2015 World Rally Championship: obvious proof, if such was needed, of the amazing appeal of the Tour de Corse.

The heavy involvement of the local authorities alongside us has helped us to maintain the Tour de Corse as a major sporting event at both national and international level.

The Federation has taken advantage of the experience acquired in 2015 to put on an even bigger spectacle with more intensity and suspense for you and spectators alike. Our aim is to make things more difficult by increasing the length and renewing numerous special stages so the event now covers the whole Corsican territory.

Our mission and our driving aim are to use this great event to promote and open up motor sport to the largest possible number of people in our country.

Thus, in addition to being the 11th round of the FIA World Rally Championship, the Tour de Corse will allow the maximum number of rally drivers, mostly amateurs, to share the same playing field as the champions they worship as heroes.

Rallying is one of the few activities amongst all sports, in which such a thing is possible. Thus, we're very pleased that we've managed to keep the principle of a combined classification in which amateur competitors appear on the same footing as those in the WRC.

I hope that the maximum number of our licence-holders, starting with Corsican drivers, will take advantage of this thanks to the preferential entry fees and the excellent welcome we've laid on for them.

From 28th September onwards Corsica will host a real motorsport festival. The Tour de Corse – 10.000 Virages reserved for GTs, Supercars and legendary cars will again take place using the same route as the WRC, and this year an event for women has been created, the Tour de Corse Ladies.

These two events combine pleasure, conviviality and the discovery of Corsican roads and the island's heritage, and are organised in parallel to the world championship with its top-class, popular field.

Thus all the right conditions are in place to make the 2016 Tour de Corse an exceptional human and sporting adventure from 28th September to 2nd October.

In the name of the FFSA and its Steering Committee I would like to wish you all a great Tour de Corse.

Nicolas Deschaux,
 President of the French Motor Sports Federation

RALLY GUIDE 1

1/2 The challenge

The FFSA has come up with an itinerary that's undergone a 70 per cent revamp compared to 2015: in other words 161 km of new special stages for the drivers and crews entered for the World Rally Championship. Endurance will be the key word in this rally and we hope it will appeal to the greatest possible number of people.

The Federation's team has created three completely new special stages.

This year the FFSA has again decided to organise a Tour de Corse in the real meaning of the term, as it covers the whole Corsican territory and the two island departments, the Haute-Corse and the Corse-du-Sud, with stopovers in the main towns on the Ile de Beauté.

THURSDAY, 29 SEPTEMBER: SHAKEDOWN SORBO OCAGNANO (5.40 km)

This section, which expresses the diversity of the island's terrain in a nutshell, is laid out in the Casinca region. The drivers will set off from the Querciolo village on a challenging wide, twisty road section lined with great viewing zones for the public. The change in surface and the way the road narrows on the approach to Sorbo Ocagnano makes the second part of the shakedown trickier. The cars will head downhill to an even narrower descent in the woods that's often damp on their way to the finish in Castellare di Casinca.

In the afternoon the crews will set off for Ajaccio where numerous promotions will add to the action in the heart of the imperial city with the not-to-be-missed highlight, the night-time start ceremony.

FRIDAY, 30 SEPTEMBER: LEG 1

SS 1-3: ACQUA DORIA – ALBITRECCIA (49.72 km)

The start of this 100 per cent new stage will be given in the Acqua Doria village not far from Capo di Muro and its legendary Genovese tower. Straight away the drivers will have to cope with a road alternating rapid and twisty sections as far as the Tassinca hairpin. The climb up to the village will provide some very spectacular passages.

The crews will then tackle a quick uphill flowing section to the crossing of the Col de Gradello and they will reach the Pietrosella hairpin by way of a bumpy road with a patchy surface. A very narrow road with a degraded surface will take them uphill to the famous Col de Bellevalle hairpin.

There will be a change of pace on the climb up to the Bisinao village on a wide section with a series of quick corners. Their next challenge is a narrow, twisty road with several surface changes as far as the Albitreccia hairpin.

The crews who will be champing at the bit to do battle in the first leg, will finish with a section that's even trickier and more treacherous that includes the crossing of the village of Albitreccia.

SS 2/4: PLAGÉ DU LIAMONE – SAROLLA CARCOPINO (29,12 Km)

The Plage de Liamone will be the major attraction at the start of the first stage that is identical to the one used in 2015. Straight away the drivers will have to tackle a very quick uphill section on the way to Casaligione with its very tight hairpin that's not always easy to get round.

Then, comes a change of pace and profile with a wide, twisty road leading to Pont de Furcina and a string of corners with an uphill climb along a narrow winding bumpy ascent up to the Calcatoggio hairpin.

The crews will cross the villages of Sant' Andrea d'Orcino and Cannelle along a road that poses another technical challenge to reach the Sari d'Orcino hairpin.

The next section is much wider and goes uphill to Col de Sarzoggio followed by a pretty tricky run down to Sarrola-Carcopino, the end of the second stage.

RALLY GUIDE 1

SATURDAY, 1 OCTOBER: LEG 2

SS 5-7: OREZZA – LA PORTA – VALLE DI ROSTINO (53,72 km)

One myth follows another with this stage that was such an important part of the glorious era of the Tour de Corse. Today it has been named after one of the official partners of the event. This stage has two new sections: from the start to kilometre 29,21 and then from kilometre 49,73 to the finish. The stage begins in Pont de Rimitorio with a very technical uphill section to the La Porta church, a legendary monument of the Tour de Corse and a symbol of Castagniccia: it leads to a narrow, twisty, road uneven in places, which runs through the Giocatojo village, to cross the Col Saint Antoine, one of the high points of the rally (687m above sea level).

The crews will then head downhill along new and patchy surfaces with quick, winding sections that will take them to Ortiporio, Penta Acquatella and then to Barchetta and its spectacular hairpin. They will join Campile after a radical change of surface and a wide uphill section like a hill climb.

A much twistier road along the mountainside will bring them to Bisinchi and Castello di Rostino followed by the final section comprising a succession of downhill hairpins before they reach the finish not far from Valle di Rostino.

SS 6/8: NOVELLA – PIETRALBA (30,80 Km)

The drivers start from near the Pietra Monetta Auberge on a narrow, twisty road in the middle of the maquis (scrubland); they then have to cope with several difficult corners to reach the Novella village perched high in the mountains.

The spectators will have a unique view on Balagne and the whole of the first part of this stage as the cars pass through the Gare de Novella and Col de la Croix.

After that the cars have to follow a much narrower and bumpier road with an uneven surface to reach the old main road where they will tackle a series of quick sections. Then the crews have to cope with a much narrower, bumpy piece of road leading to the finish in Pietralba.

SUNDAY, 2 OCTOBER: LEG 3

SS 9: ANTISANTI – POGGIO DI NAZZA (53,78 Km)

There are two new sections in this stage: from the start to kilometre 18,9 and then from kilometre 35,83 to the finish.

The start will be given near the Purizzone hamlet after which the drivers will tackle the longest stage in the rally starting with a twisty uphill section that is very tricky in parts as far as Antisanti.

The crews will reach the village of Vezzani (the highest point of the rally at 815m above sea level) on a road on the mountainside alternating banked corners and very technical portions: they will also skirt Rospigliani. A fast downhill run will take them to Pietroso as they head for Maison Pieraggi.

Then comes a change of direction as they follow the very narrow, bumpy Col de Cardo road to the bottom of the Défilé de l'Inzecca; they then immediately turn off towards Lugo di Nazza on very narrow, winding sections that all the crews had to brave in the 1980s. The final section after Poggio di Nazza will demand intense concentration because of the frequent changes of road profile until the finish.

SS 10: PORTO-VECCHIO – PALOMBAGGIA (10,42 Km) – POWER STAGE

This stage starts in Precojo and the cars head for Bocca di L'Oru in lovely, twisty undulating sections along the coast above the beaches of Folaca, Tamaricciu and Palombaggia. They then leave the first costal section at Porra followed by a final series of hairpins before the finish of the Power Stage.

The crews that have survived all the traps on the 390 km of special stages in the 2016 Tour of Corsica will celebrate the finish of the rally in the heart of the Porto-Vecchio Marina.
