RALLY GUIDE 1

1 INTRODUCTION / WELCOME

Dear participants, dear teams and guests,

After a fantastic debut in the FIA World Rally Championship (WRC) 2023, the Central European Rally (CER) comes back to Germany, Czech Republic and Austria.

I am very delighted that you will be part of this second edition and I would like to welcome you warmly on behalf of all the organisers. In the planning of the event, we can call on the help of the rally experts from those three countries to perfectly unite their ideas. This event is also meant to be a sign of friendship and understanding between the nations in the heart of Europe. For rally fans it is not a secret that our sport is only possible if we are open to the world and enjoy the encounter of different temperaments and cultures. We want to foster this spirit at the Central European Rally and make it widely visible.

One of the roots of the Central European Rally is the ADAC 3-Städte-Rallye. Its history goes back to the 1960s, when for example the predecessor events connected Munich, Vienna and Budapest. Of course, those times are long gone, and today's rally format combines the sporting challenge with a maximum of safety as well as the endeavour to unite rally sport and sustainability thinking into a harmonious coexistence. And yet, the Central European Rally also resonates with a little of the historic flair of the international ride that once marked the beginning of its development. This is also underlined by the route, which, after the start in Prague, leads over special stages in all three countries, before the final podium in Passau is reached on Sunday afternoon.

Just as we continue a long history of rallying in the region, we are also committed to the challenges of our time. Therefore, the Central European Rally is committed to sustainability. This is reflected in an extensive catalogue of environmental goals, the effects of which will also be felt by the visitors: From the reduction of traffic through the use of shuttle buses to local and sustainable catering providers and the use of recycled materials, numerous small and large measures contribute to these goals. With the WRC, we also have the pleasure of welcoming a world championship whose top class in many aspects represents the pinnacle of what is technically feasible in terms of sustainability. As a national championship, the ADAC Opel Electric Rally Cup – the first fully electric rally trophy in the world - complements the program.

It is our ambition to create a cosmopolitan, modern and trend-setting event in the heart of Europe.

We wish all participants, team members, organisers, guests and visitors a good, exciting and accident-free time and much success at the Central European Rally.

*Andreas Dinzinger
Clerk of the Course*

RALLY GUIDE 1

1.1 ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

The organizing team of the Central European Rally 2024 is committed to the central guiding principle

SMART INNOVATIONS FOR AVOIDANCE AND REDUCTION OF CO2 and WASTE

Based on this, the sustainability strategy of the event was developed, which also considers the consideration of all relevant Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) of the UN for all areas. For this reason, also inclusion impulses are considered in the target system of the CERs sustainability strategy.

In total, more than 30 sustainability measures will be implemented in five central areas:

Spectators

- Bus shuttle service to the special stages / service park
- Request to fill up the cars with e-fuels
- Call and benefit program for car pools
- Paper bags instead of plastic
- Regional catering
- Use of sustainable / compostable crockery and cutlery
- Uniform waste disposal in car parks and spectator zones
- Merchandising articles locally and sustainably and from workshops for people with special needs

Rally teams

- Start and presentation of the ADAC Opel Electric Rally Cup
- Sustainable document bags made of upcycled material
- Vehicle washing zones
- Use of environmental mats
- Waste disposal / oil collection points in the service park

Organization

- Support vehicles will be e-fueled or have electric drives
- Minimization of travel through predominantly online meetings of the organizers
- Paperless information
- Training of all sports officials on the topic of sustainability

Material

- Regional production and sustainable use of materials
- Sustainable clothing
- Sustainable route markings (signs, stickers, route tapes, sports waistcoats, etc.)

Social actions

- Honorary prizes and trophies made by workshops for people with special needs
- Free tickets for institutions for people with special needs
- Spectator areas for visitors with special needs

RALLY GUIDE 1

The measures will be communicated extensively to spectators, residents, local administrations, suppliers and throughout the rally organization as well as to the teams.

To further reduce the carbon footprint, key data on the sustainability of the event will be collected from 2024 onwards so that measures can be planned in a more targeted manner in subsequent years. The FIA's "three-star program" for CER environmental accreditation has been implemented and will be applied consistently.

Maximum conservation of soil and water was considered in the planning and the respective measures are monitored by specially trained track marshals. The CER is aware that it serves as a role model for many national motorsport events in the cross-border region. Therefore, care was taken to ensure that the measures can also be implemented for these smaller events and thus make a long-term contribution to achieving the CO2 climate targets and respect the areas of responsibility of

- CLIMATE
- BIODIVERSITY
- INNOVATION
- RESPONSIBLE MANAGEMENT
- SOCIAL IMPACT

following the WRC "Beyond Rally "-principles.
