Paraguay welcomes the WRC with open arms!

From the heart of South America, we are so proud and excited to host a round of the FIA World Rally Championship (WRC) for the first time. An achievement that does not come by chance and is the result of years of passion and an authentic bond between the Paraguayan people and motorsports.

Our country is proud to have drivers competing in the WRC and, above all, to have the reigning WRC3 champion. Today, that pride peaks and becomes enthusiastic as we host one of the WRC's rounds.

Santiago Peña

President of the Republic of Paraguay

Here, rallying is not just a sport. It is part of our culture. The arrival of the WRC in Paraguay raises our profile on the international motorsports calendar. We are a country with young people, talent, and unique energy that connects opportunities, cultures, and unforgettable experiences like the WRC.

Itapúa, with its red soil and breathtaking landscapes, is the ideal setting for a demanding, vibrant, and characterful competition. Those who have raced here know this, and those who set foot on this land for the first time will discover it.

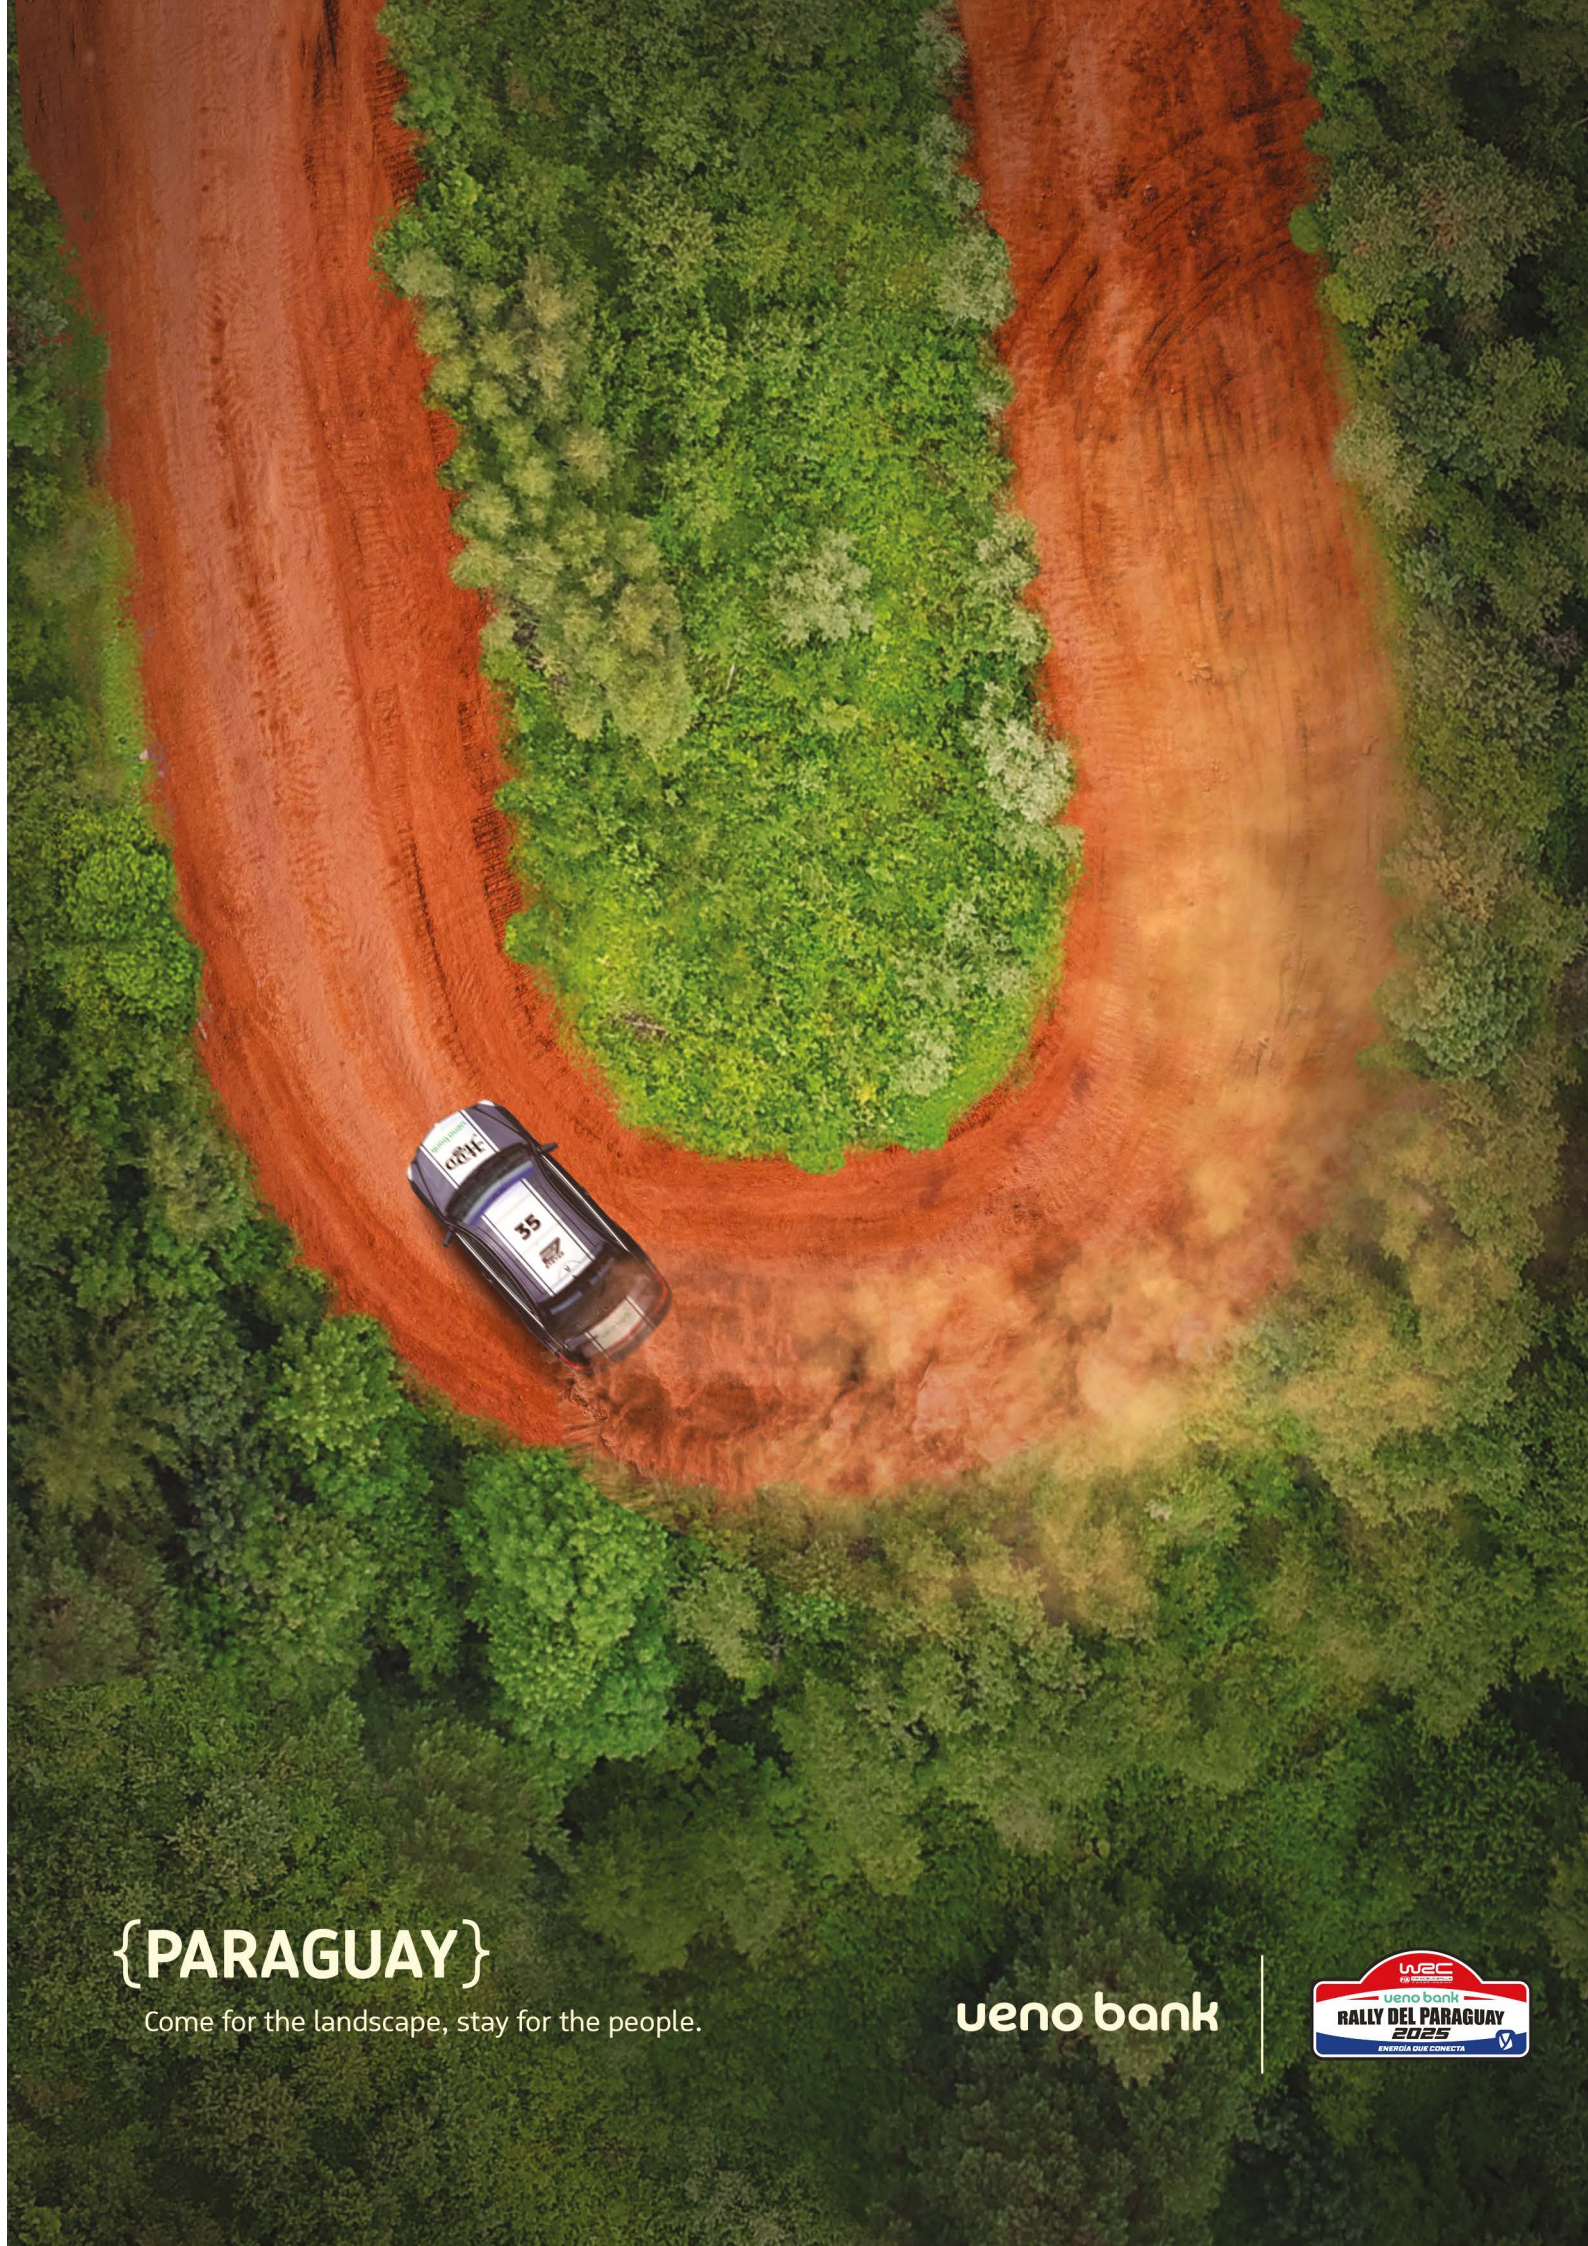

We have been enthusiastically preparing to rise to this great challenge for some time now. Infrastructure, security, services, and a passionate fan base like few others in the world, along with the hospitality that characterizes the Paraguayan people, will make them feel at home.

Our goal is not just to host a race. It is to leave a mark on the memories of the drivers, teams, and fans. Let them remember Paraguay not only for its roads but for its warmth, its people, and its vision for the future.

This will be a turning point for motorsports in Paraguay and an opportunity for the world to discover the full potential of South America's best-kept treasure, a sleeping giant full of energy, history, and unique people about to awaken.

Welcome to Paraguay!

{PARAGUAY}

Come for the landscape, stay for the people.

Recommended Sanitary Protocol.

The organization considers the protection of all attendees' health a fundamental pillar. Given that Paraguay has a subtropical climate, and is endemic—and in some cases hyperendemic—to various vector-borne diseases, prevention plays a strategic role in safeguarding public health.

The implementation of this plan is carried out in close coordination with institutions under the Ministry of Public Health and Social Welfare (MSPyBS), such as the National Service for Malaria Eradication (SENEPA) and the General Directorate of Health Surveillance (DGVS). This ensures a comprehensive, inter-institutional approach to the prevention and control of vector-borne diseases in the most sensitive areas of the host cities.

This protocol will be applied in sports facilities, accommodation areas, public zones, service areas, and any other critical spaces related to the development of the events.
